

Sargasso Special Issue (1999): Performance and Text in Caribbean Literature and Art

Table of Contents

| | |
|---|-----|
| Lowell Fiet By way of introduction: Performance and Text in Caribbean Literature and Art | vii |
| Judith Bettelheim On My Way Home from Puerto Rico, Preliminary musings (October 1997) | 1 |
| Antonio Benítez Rojo Nueva Atlántida: El último archipiélago | 7 |
| Karen Koegler From the Stuttering Island to a Region of One Voice: A possible Geocultural Transformation of the Caribbean | 19 |
| June Bobb “Imagination Transform/Transcend into Miracle “: Text as Performance in the Poetry of Kamau Brathwaite | 30 |
| Mervyn Morris ‘Dub Poetry’? | 38 |
| Peter Roberts Big Words as a form of popular oral Culture: sources and development | 48 |
| Carmen R. Gillespie “I come from a place where breath, eyes, and memory are one...”: Ritual, Memory, and the Search for Homeplace in Edwidge Danticat’s Breath, Eyes, Memory | 64 |
| Mary Anne Gosser Esquilín Marie Chauvet and Edwidge Danticat: Dramatic Narratives or Haitian Dances Macabres | 76 |
| Berta Graciano “We are no longer là-bas ”: Immigration | |

| | |
|--|-----|
| and Gender Differences in Liliane Dévieux's Piano Bar | 94 |
| Lowell Fiet Walcott's Way: "Do you know where you are?" "At a crossroads in the moonlight." | 103 |
| David Updike The Last Caribs (story) | 115 |
| Kristin Ruth Bratt Poems | 125 |
| Carlos R. Alberty Fragoso Provocaciones para la presentación de la segunda edición (ampliada) de The Repeating Island: the Caribbean and the Postmodern Perspective de Antonio Benítez Rojo | 134 |
| List of Contributors | 139 |