

Sargasso 2004-5, II
Table of Contents

EDITOR'S NOTE
Ian Anthony Bethell	vii
INTRODUCTION
María Soledad Rodríguez	1
INTERVIEW
Prudence Layne and Lester Green
Haiti: History, Voice, Empowerment – An Interview with Edwidge Danticat	3
ESSAYS
Joanna Barszewska Marshall
Resisting the Attempt to “Civilize” Family and Appetite in Merle Hodge’s Crick Crack, Monkey : The Struggle for Sovereignty and the Development of an Eating Disorder	19
Kim Dismont Robinson
Bourne Again: Mythic History in Paule Marshall’s The Chosen Place, The Timeless People	31
Solveig Mill
The Enigma of In-Between: Transdifference in Paule Marshall’s Daughters	43
Manuela Coppola
Sublime Mothers: Caribbean Genealogies and Deadly Configurations in Jamaica Kincaid’s Narrative	59
Cynthia S. Pittmann
A Refusal to Negotiate; Transgression and Transformation in Jamaica Kincaid’s Annie John, Lucy and The Autobiography of My Mother	71
Keja Valens
Plotting Desire Between Women “In The Night”	81
BOOK REVIEWS
Maryann Gosser-Esquilín
The Dew Breaker by Edwidge Danticat	93
Maritza Stanchich
Spirit of Haiti by Myriam J.A. Chancy	97
Mae Teitelbaum

The Noise of Infinite Longing: A Memoir of a Family and an Island by Luisita López Torregrosa	100
Nathan Budoff
The Munch Case by Robert Buckeye	102
Jorge Duany
What Women Lose: Exiles and the Construction of Imaginary Homelands in Novels by Caribbean Writers by María Cristina Rodríguez	103
Lucía Stecher-Guzmán
Mujeres excéntricas: La escritura autobiográfica femenina en Puerto Rico y Cuba by Aileen Schmidt	108
Andrea E. Shaw
Prospero's Isles: The Presence of the Caribbean in the American Imaginary edited by Diane Accaria-Zavala and Rodolfo Popelnik	111
Patrick-André Mather
The Francophone Caribbean Today: Literature, Language, Culture , edited by Gertrud Aub-Buscher and Beverley Ormerod Noakes	113
Sally Everson
The Internationalization of English Literature: Oxford English Literary History Volume 13 1948-2000 by Bruce King	118
LIST OF CONTRIBUTORS	121